

Infrastructure Adviser – Port Vila, Vanuatu

(Non-Australian Public Servant, Overseas-Based Staff Position)

The Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) is seeking an Infrastructure Adviser to provide advisory support to the Vanuatu Governance for Growth Program (GfG). GfG is a partnership between the Vanuatu and Australian governments which aims to address obstacles to broad-based growth and service delivery that can be overcome through effective governance. The successful candidate will support the development and implementation of effective and efficient AusAID-funded infrastructure sector initiatives in Vanuatu.

The successful candidate will have:

- A tertiary qualification in Public Administration or Management, Transport Economics, Engineering, Project Management or another similar field;
- At least 15 years professional experience at a senior management level in planning, policy coordination and public sector reform related to the transport sector; and
- Sound knowledge of transport policy, infrastructure and public financial management issues affecting developing countries.

The Infrastructure Adviser will be appointed for an initial period of twenty four (24) months, commencing on or before 31 March 2012 with the possibility of a twelve (12) month extension. There will be an initial probation period of 3 months.

An internationally competitive remuneration package, including attractive conditions of employment, will be negotiated commensurate with the demonstrated experience, expertise and skills of the successful candidate.
